Course Description and Instructors

Septic system inspections are the first step towards inventorying what is in the ground, and are critical to protecting public health and water quality. On the first day of this class, you will be in the classroom learning about onsite wastewater systems, inspection techniques, general safety issues, how to use tools and gadgets of the inspection trade and how to recognize typical substandard systems, collecting baseline data, determining solids levels in tanks, and pump out and inspection frequencies. The second day will begin with a brief hands-on review of safety issues, inspection techniques, procedures, and inspection tools. Then we head into the field to conduct 2 actual, blind inspections at existing homes using the standardized class inspection procedure. At the end of the day, you may take a written examination to become a Suffolk County approved onsite wastewater system inspector. Instructors for the class are – George Loomis of the University of Rhode Island New England Onsite Wastewater Training Center; Justin Jobin and Ed Lyons, from Suffolk County Department of Health Services.

Class Logistics

Participants are required to be present during the entire 2-day class (8:00 am to 5:00 pm each day). Attendance will be taken throughout the class. Your fee does not include lunch or refreshment breaks - please bring your own lunch, snacks and drinks. The County will issue inspector certificates to participants who successfully complete the class and pass the inspector's examination.
