Cilmi Addresses Concerns in Hauppauge & Ronkonkoma

Although new district lines won't take effect until January 2014, Suffolk County Legislator Tom Cilmi is not wasting any time getting to know future constituents in Ronkonkoma and Hauppauge. Recently, he addressed concerns in both communities.

In Ronkonkoma, a LIPA pole in front of the Post Office on Hawkins Avenue was dangerously leaning into the road. Cilmi called LIPA, Verizon and Cablevision, all of whom responded rapidly, installing a new pole, transferring the necessary connections and removing the old pole.

In Hauppauge, runoff from an unfinished development just north of Terry Road has been causing excessive mud, sand and debris to accumulate on neighboring streets. Cilmi is working with the Town of Islip to ensure that the developer expeditiously remedies the situation.

Cilmi said, "I'm excited for the opportunity to represent and serve residents on the Islip side of Hauppauge and in expanded areas of Ronkonkoma and Bohemia. Some of the issues may differ, but mostly we're all just looking for a safe, affordable, decent quality of life."
