Legislator Calarco Welcomes Bellport Primary Care Center

Patchogue, NY –On January 28, Legislator Calarco joined members of the community, staff of Brookhaven Memorial Hospital, the Suffolk County Police and first responders for the ribbon cutting of the Bellport Primary Care Center.

“Brookhaven Memorial Hospital was established as a community-based hospital to meet the needs of the area; this center is a testament to their founding principle,” said Legislator Calarco. “Now, after almost two decades of planning Brookhaven Memorial Hospital has helped the Bellport community realize its dream: a full-fledged primary health care facility in the heart of their neighborhood. I wish them the greatest success as they partner with our community groups and first responders to keep the Bellport community healthy and safe.”

“I am also amazed at how quickly this center was built; it felt like only yesterday that I attended the groundbreaking ceremony on a warm summer morning. Today we are standing in front of a state-of-the-art facility that will be equipped to meet the needs of our residents. I applaud Brookhaven Memorial Hospital on this fantastic endeavor,” Calarco continued.

The Bellport Primary Care Center is scheduled to open in April. There will be a community open house in the early spring.
