(Bayport-NY)- Suffolk County Legislator Bill Lindsay III recently attended the Installation Dinner of the Bayport Civic Association to honor the Civic's Board Members and its 2015 Civic Pride Award Winner, Seth Needelman. Needelman, 42, resides in Bayport with his wife Danielle and their 3 children. Needelman is the owner of "The Fish Store" located at 836 Main Street in Bayport, which has quickly become a highlight of the Bayport community. Needelman prides himself on having a top-notch business that provides the freshest fish and the best possible service to its customers.

In addition to being a successful local business owner, Needelman has been an active participant throughout the Bayport community as the past President and current Director for the Bayport-Blue Point Chamber of Commerce, an active member of the Bayport Civic Association, a member of the Bayport-Blue Point St. Patrick's Day Parade Committee, and the coordinator of the biannual Bayport-Blue Point Community Expo.

"Seth truly represents the hardworking and dedicated people of this community, said Legis. Lindsay III. "He understands that a community will thrive socially and economically when its members are engaged at all levels, from the business community to its young people to families and its senior population."

The Civic Pride Award is awarded annually to one member of the Bayport community who exemplifies community service, enhances civic engagement and provides outstanding care to all residents of the Bayport Community.

"Seth has made a tremendous impact on this community; he gives 100 percent to his work and his civic commitments and still finds time to be a great father and husband. It's a privilege for me to assist the Bayport Civic in honoring Seth for his outstanding contributions to our society," said Lindsay III.
