HUNTINGTON, N.Y. - Suffolk County Legislator Steve Stern (D-Huntington) 16th L.D., partnered with student volunteers for a Super Bowl food drive at the ShopRite of Commack. The drive, coordinated with Island Harvest, an organization that collects surplus food and food donations to supply area food pantries, netted 500 pounds of non-perishable food items and cash donations to aid needy families.

“ShopRite has always been a proud supporter of the communities we serve,” said Jon Greenfield who along with his son, Seth Greenfield, own and operate the ShopRite of Commack. “Island Harvest has done a wonderful job feeding those in need right here in our neighborhood, and we want to thank them, Legislator Stern and most importantly, our ShopRite customers for their kindness in helping us give back.”

“During these challenging times, it is important to join together to help those in need in our community,” Legislator Stern said. “I thank Island Harvest, ShopRite, the many members of the community who donated food and funds and these fine young people, who have given of their time to help their neighbors. Their generosity is greatly appreciated.”
