HUNTINGTON, NY –Suffolk County Legislator Steve Stern (D-Huntington) 16th LD, awarded Renarts’ owners Nick and Ankur Amin and creative director Chase Ceperano with a Proclamation for their generosity and dedicated efforts to assist children in need in our community. Renarts sells shoes and athletic sportswear at its three locations in Huntington and East Northport. Partnering with Big Brothers and Big Sisters of Long Island, Renarts created the “Kicks for Kids” program to provide fashionable and fun footwear for children and recently held a shoe give-away for 50 children at its East Northport store. Chase Ceperano, who was a “Little Brother” as a child, worked with Nick and Ankur Amin to find a meaningful way to assist young people. “We were already thinking of a way to give back to the community, so when Chase came to us with an idea to give back to the organization that helped him when he was younger, how could we say no?" said Ankur Amin.

"It is my pleasure to thank and congratulate Renarts, Ankur and Nick Amin and Chase Ceperano, for their generosity in giving back to the community and helping young people in need," Legislator Stern said. "Renarts is a great example of how we can all make a difference in the life of a child."
