Grand Jury indicts Flanders father for assaulting pregnant girlfriend

A Flanders man charged with assaulting his pregnant girlfriend, causing her to undergo an emergency delivery, will be arraigned on a grand jury indictment tomorrow (Thursday 8/20), Suffolk County District Attorney Thomas Spota said.

Southampton Town police charged Mohammed Proctor, 38, with assault and criminal obstruction of breathing after the incident in his residence at 40A Woodland Trail.

The mother, Tiffany Norris, approximately seven and one-half months pregnant, gave birth to a female infant who is receiving care at Stony Brook University Hospital.

Acting State Supreme Court Justice Mark Cohen (fourth floor of the courthouse) will unseal Proctor's indictment Thursday.

The court calendar begins at 9:30 am.
